

PRESERVATION & FACULTY HOUSING PROJECT

PRINCETON BATTLEFIELD STATE PARK

Approximately 80 acres total

01

32 ACRES CONVEYED BY IAS TO THE STATE IN 1971

Enlarged Princeton Battlefield State Park by 60%

02

589 ACRES PERMANENTLY PRESERVED BY IAS

The Institute Woods and Farmlands are open year-round to the public

03

IAS CAMPUS

04

ADDITIONAL PRESERVED LANDS

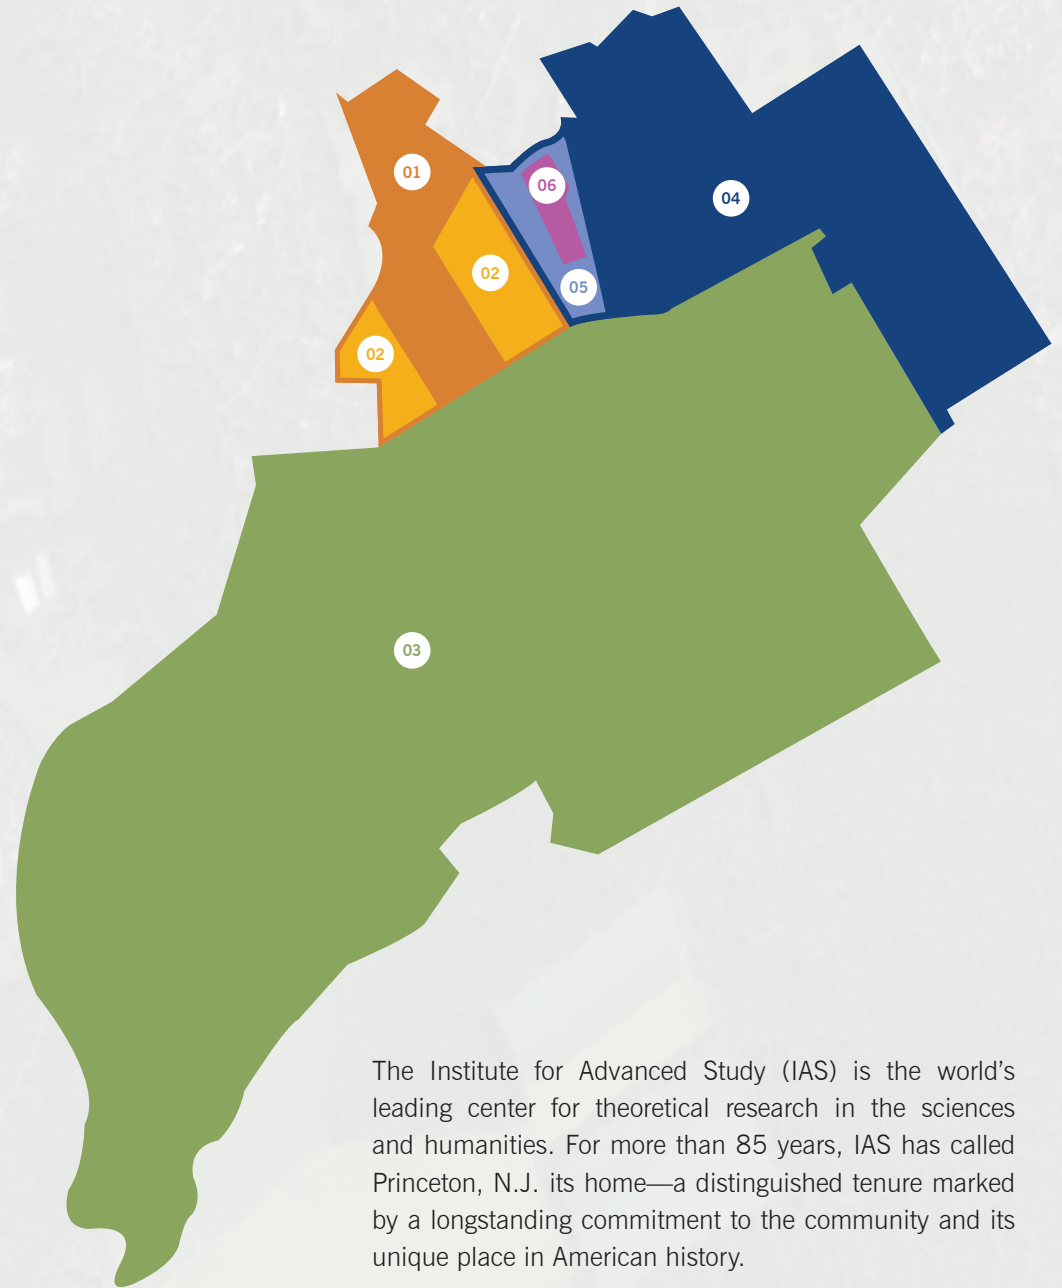

14 acres of the project site, including a 200-foot buffer, will be preserved

05

PROPOSED FACULTY HOUSING PROJECT

7 acres total

06

The Institute for Advanced Study (IAS) is the world's leading center for theoretical research in the sciences and humanities. For more than 85 years, IAS has called Princeton, N.J. its home—a distinguished tenure marked by a longstanding commitment to the community and its unique place in American history.

The current plan for Faculty Housing 06 preserves the site's natural surroundings and respects the historic setting. The site has been designated for Faculty Housing for more than four decades 05. It is adjacent to the Institute's campus 04 and opposite Princeton Battlefield State Park 01.