

Lunch and Learn Workshops

Workshops begin at noon in the Dilworth Room.
Lunch is provided; registration required.

October 6: Research “Meet and Greet”

Scholars from all four Schools are invited to meet one another and discuss their various research interests. (All Members and partners encouraged to attend.)

October 20: Making the Most of Your IAS Membership

Coach and Speaker Rena Seltzer will present a program specifically tailored to help Members make the most of their IAS appointment.

November 17: Start Smart Salary Negotiation

Whether you're job hunting or seeking to renegotiate an existing contract, this workshop will help you develop the knowledge and skills necessary to ensure you're fairly compensated.

January 19: Research “Meet and Greet”

Scholars from all four Schools are invited to meet one another and discuss their various research interests.

February 9: Collaborative & Archival Research at IAS

Learn from the Institute's “History Working Group” and the Library Staff about how to form lasting, cross-School research collaborations, as well as the many resources available through the IAS Archives.

March 16: How to Write an Op-Ed

Presented by Thaler Pekar & Partners, this program will walk participants through the process of refining academic research into op-ed-ready narrative.

April 6: Staying Connected to IAS

Learn from the AMIAS Board of Trustees about the many ways you can stay connected to IAS even after your appointment ends.

Register at: www.ias.edu/lunch-and-learn-workshops

Association of Members of the Institute for Advanced Study (AMIAS)

All current and former Institute scholars are members of AMIAS. While on campus, AMIAS affords scholars and their families the opportunity to take part in special events and activities. Once your Institute appointment is over, AMIAS offers many ways to stay connected to the IAS community, no matter where your future scholarship might take you.

To learn more about AMIAS, visit:

www.ias.edu/amias

Academic Affairs & Member Services Staff

Josephine Faass, Director of Academic Affairs
(609) 734-8201 / jfaass@ias.edu

Linda Cooper, AMIAS and Member Relations Officer
(609) 734-8259 / llg@ias.edu

IAS | INSTITUTE FOR
ADVANCED STUDY | 1 Einstein Drive
Princeton, NJ 08540

Academic Affairs & Member Services

IAS | INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDY

Research Funding & Employment Support

Research Funding Support

However fruitful, most Institute appointments are finite, but it is our sincere hope that work begun and inspired on our campus will continue to grow and develop in the future. As such, the Director of Academic Affairs assists Members (and their partners and spouses) in identifying and applying for research funding for after they leave our campus.

To learn more about Research Funding Support for Members visit:

www.ias.edu/member-research-support

To learn more about Research Funding Support for Partners visit:

www.ias.edu/partner-research-supports

Employment Support

The Institute provides a temporary home for many talented academics, a number of whom are seeking permanent positions and/or fellowships into which they can transition at the conclusion of their IAS appointment. Similarly, scholars' partners or spouses may desire employment during or after their time at the Institute.

Working together, Human Resources and Academic Affairs may help job candidates identify employment opportunities and ensure that their submission materials are as strong as possible.

To learn more about Employment Support for Members, email:

mklompus@ias.edu or jfaass@ias.edu

To learn more about Employment Support for Partners, visit:

www.ias.edu/job-search-resources-partnersspouses

Want to organize a community event or activity?

The Institute encourages scholars and their families to plan social activities and events that share their cultures or interests with the campus community. Book clubs, movie nights, sports, and special meals have all been organized and enjoyed by past Members and their partners with the support of the Academic Affairs and Members Services Staff.

For more information on planning your own campus event or activity, visit:

www.ias.edu/amias-and-member-activities

Want to host a private event or activity?

Institute scholars and their families are welcome to use the Activities Room (located in the Activities Center) for private events or activities, such as children's birthday parties and individual music lessons. The room is available free of charge, but reservations are required.

To reserve the Activities Room, visit:

www.ias.edu/request-use-activities-room

Partner & Spouse Resources

Many of our Members are accompanied by partners and spouses, and the Institute has a strong commitment to ensuring that these individuals feel welcomed and supported throughout their time with us.

A variety of computing resources, including access to high speed internet, public computer terminals, and tech support are available to every member of the Institute community.

The Institute libraries also support partners and spouses, providing resources that are particularly beneficial to academics looking to further their own research pursuits while on our campus.

In addition to being welcome at IAS community and public events, partners and spouses often make community connections and learn new skills through the numerous on- and off-campus non-academic activities coordinated by Institute Staff.

Finally, partners and spouses are welcome to take advantage of the employment and research funding support programs offered through the Institute's Office of Academic Affairs.

