

Workshop

Near Eastern Studies after Patricia Crone

Monday, June 4, 2018, at the Van Leer Jerusalem Institute

Opening Session

9:30 Greetings

Chair: Tommaso Tesei Polonsky Academy,
The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute

10:00-10:30 Sabine Schmidtke Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton

Near and Middle Eastern Studies at the Institute for Advanced Study: From Ernst
Herzfeld to Patricia Crone (and beyond)

10:30-11:00 Lena Salaymeh Tel Aviv
University

From Goldziher to Crone: Inside the Box of Islamwissenschaft

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

Second Session

Chair: Domenico Agostini Tel Aviv University

11:30-12:00 Joseph Witztum The Hebrew
University of Jerusalem

Q 3:49 and Its Exegesis: Some Observations

12:00-12:30 Adam Silverstein Bar-Ilan
University

On Some Aspects of Daniel's Reception in Islamic Sources

12:30-13:00 Gabriel Said Reynolds University of Notre Dame

History and the Quran: The Problem of Sura 16

13:00-14:30 Lunch break

Third Session

Chair: Camilla Adang Tel Aviv University

14:30-15:00 Uriel Simonsohn University of Haifa

Seeing Islam through Its Relations with Others:
A Methodological Tribute to Patricia Crone

15:00-15:30 Amikam Elad The Hebrew
University of Jerusalem

The Markets of Jerusalem after the Arab Conquest in Light of an Early Muslim Tradition

15:30-16:00 Michael Lecker The Hebrew
University of Jerusalem

Medinan Trade and the Rise of Islam

16:00-16:30 Coffee break

Fourth Session

Chair: Sabine Schmidtke Institute for Advanced Study

16:30-17:00 Domenico Agostini Tel Aviv
University

Zoroastrian Apocalypse as Iranian Resistance

17:30-18:00 Roy Vilozny University of Haifa

Imāmi Records of Non-Scriptural Divine
Sayings: al-Ḥurr al-ʿĀmili's (d.1104/1693)
Compilation

18:00 Closure

Evening: Reception

Conveners:

Tommaso Tesei (Polonsky Academy, The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute)

Domenico Agostini (Department of History, Tel Aviv University)

Camilla Adang (Department of Arabic and Islamic Studies, Tel Aviv University)