Please do not visit the Helpdesk in person without a scheduled appointment.

We look forward to supporting you this year!
What Computing is doing in response to COVID-19

• Campus-wide
  • Providing access to additional software and services to support your research and collaboration online
  • Providing Audio/Visual equipment to enable hybrid in-person/online seminars and lectures
  • Providing remote, contact-less support for your IT needs wherever possible

• In your offices or when working with your devices
  • Disinfecting all equipment after installation
  • Utilizing protective gear including masks, gloves and keyboard covers when working on your systems directly
What you can do

- Report all IT questions or concerns to your helpdesk
- Please do not visit the Helpdesk in person without a scheduled appointment
- If/when a technician visits your office, consistent with campus policy, face covering and appropriate distancing must be enforced. You can also exit the space temporarily if preferred.
- Be aware of online and email-based scams. Visit the IAS Information Security website for more information
