Short-Term Scholar Questionnaire Instructions for Foreign Scholars

US Visa: A US visa is issued and stamped on the page of a passport by a US Consular Officer. The issuance of the visa indicates that the holder is qualified to apply for admission to the US in a particular immigration classification.

Passport: US immigration law requires that all non-immigrants have a valid machine-readable passport to enter and remain in the US.

B-1/B-2 Visa and the Visa Waiver Program*: The B-1 visa is for a visitor coming to the US for business purposes, and the B-2 visa is for tourism. B-1/B-2 visits may last no longer than 180 days. Citizens of certain countries are eligible to visit the US for business or tourism under the Visa Waiver Program and do not need to apply for a B-1 or B-2 visa. Visa Waiver visits may last no longer than 90 days. The B visa or Visa Waiver is not intended for use by a scholar accepting an academic appointment for a term or longer. Business visitors are prohibited from being paid any form of salary, wage, stipend, or grant but may generally accept reimbursement for expenses and, in some instances, an honorarium payment.

As of January 12, 2009, all Visa Waiver visitors are required to obtain pre-clearance authorization through the Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) prior to travel. It is recommended that travelers apply as soon as they begin preparing travel plans or prior to purchasing airline tickets.

 Foreign nationals in the following categories are restricted from traveling to the United States under the Visa Waiver Program:*

- Nationals of Visa Waiver Program countries who have traveled to or been present in Iran, Iraq, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria or Yemen since March 1, 2011.
- Dual nationals of a Visa Waiver Program member country and Iran, Iraq, Sudan or Syria.

Individuals subject to Visa Waiver Program travel restrictions must obtain a B-1/B-2 visa from a U.S. consulate to visit the United States for business or tourism, with very limited exceptions.

J-1 Exchange Visitor: The Exchange Visitor Program seeks to promote mutual understanding between the people of the US and the people of other countries through educational and cultural exchanges. Through the Exchange Visitor Program professors and researcher scholars may visit the US temporarily to teach, lecture, and conduct research. Based upon the information you provide on this questionnaire, the Institute, an Exchange Visitor Program Sponsor, will prepare and send you a Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor Status (also known as a DS-2019). The DS-2019 provides information about the program, the Exchange Visitor, the academic objective to be pursued, and the source and amount of the Exchange Visitor's funding. A DS-2019 must be presented to the US Consular Officer at the time of application for a J-1 visa. Complete application instructions will accompany your DS-2019.

J-1 Exchange Visitor - Canadian Citizens: Canadian citizens may apply to enter the US in J-1 status at a US port of entry with a DS-2019. It is not necessary for Canadian citizens to apply for a J-1 visa at a US Consulate.

J-2 Dependents of J-1 Exchange Visitors: A J-1 Exchange Visitor's spouse and unmarried minor children (under 21 years of age) are eligible to apply for J-2 status. The Institute will issue a DS-2019 for each eligible family member. A DS-2019 must be presented to the US Consular Officer at the time of application for a J-2 visa. Other family members such as parents, companions, married children, and children over the age of 21 are not eligible for J-2 status but may apply independently for a B-2 Tourist visa or travel under the Visa Waiver Program.

Scholar Questionnaire - Mailing Instructions: Please remember that it is the responsibility of the visiting foreign scholar to maintain a valid and continuous immigration status with the USCIS. When completing our Scholar Questionnaire, please type or print clearly; it will assist in the proper and timely completion of your documents.
