

WEDNESDAY
NOV 6

5:30 P.M.

Wolfensohn Hall

Institute for Advanced Study

ORGANIZERS:

Sanjeev Arora

Distinguished Visiting Professor
IAS School of Mathematics

Didier Fassin

James D. Wolfensohn Professor
IAS School of Social Science

Jacob Foster

University of California,
Los Angeles

Marion Fourcade

Visiting Professor
IAS School of Social Science

Support for this event is provided by a grant from the Schwab Charitable Fund made possible by the generosity of Eric and Wendy Schmidt, as well as by a grant from the Nomis Foundation.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE, ETHICS, AND SOCIETY

A CROSS-DISCIPLINARY CONVERSATION

Co-organized by the School of Mathematics and the School of Social Science, this public event will feature two short talks about the ethical and societal challenges raised by the spread of AI technologies, followed by a moderated conversation with the speakers and Q&A with the audience.

MODERATOR

Alondra Nelson

Harold F. Linder Professor
IAS School of Social Science

How Will Artificial Intelligence Change Ethics?

PEDRO DOMINGOS
University of Washington

Algorithmic Cruelty and the Hidden Costs of *Ghost Work

MARY GRAY

Microsoft and Harvard University